Abstract

The Journal of Advances in Engineering Science and Technology (AEST) is a new thrilling initiative by Ology Press. AEST covers wide range of engineering, science and technology topics substantial to authorities within these fields. We behalf of editorial board also welcome you to The Journal of Advances in Engineering Science and Technology. We invite you to submit your work through <http://ologypress.com/submit-article> website to publish in next issues so that you can contribute to the cutting edge fields of engineering, science and technology.

Editorial

The Journal of Advances in Engineering Science and Technology (AEST) is a new thrilling initiative by Ology Press. AEST covers wide range of engineering, science and technology topics substantial to authorities within these fields.

Several topics in engineering, science and technology are considered in this journal. Some of these topics are given below:

- Mechanical Engineering
- Chemical Engineering
- Civil Engineering
- Computer Science and Engineering
- Nuclear Engineering
- Systems Engineering
- Physics
- Department of Technology and Innovation

The Journal is managed by an internationally recognized team to cover all different aspects of engineering, science and technology as follows:

Editors :

- Fatih Aydogan (Ph.D.), Idaho State University (ISU), USA
- Veer Parkash Sethi (Ph.D.), Punjab Agriculture University, India

Associate Editors:

- Andri Mirzal (Ph.D.), Arabian Gulf University, Bahrain
- Ahmed Elkhayat (Ph.D.), Qatar University, Qatar

Our editorial team represents 5 countries (USA (2 editors), India (1 associate editor), Qatar (1 associate editor), Iran (3 associate editors) and Bahrain (1 associate editor). Our team covers various disciplines of engineering, science and technology. Since the reviewers are the essential part of highly qualified journal articles, we would like to continue to recruit highly qualified reviewers, who will be listed in our journal soon. I welcome all the editorial team and reviewers aboard.

We behalf of editorial board also welcome you to The Journal of Advances in Engineering Science and Technology. We invite you to submit your work through <http://ologypress.com/submit-article> website to publish in next issues so that you can contribute to the cutting edge fields of engineering, science and technology.

We thank our publisher Ology Press for allowing all the manuscripts publicly available so that readers can reach our publications without any barriers.

Enjoy reading our first issue of our publicly available journal.

Warmest greetings,

Fatih Aydogan

Editor of AEST
